Narrative

There are concerns about the mother's ability to supervise Je'hyrah. About a month ago, Je'hyrah was with her mother at the great-grandmother's home. Je'hyrah got out of the home and walked off to a park. It is not known how far away the park is, but it was estimated to be a 6 minute walk from the home. LE was not called to find her, the mother and great grandmother went out to find her.

The mother seems overwhelmed and tired with caring for Je'hyrah. Je'hyrah is [REDACTED] non-verbal, and it seems like the mother is upset that she has these disabilities and is not the baby that she dreamed of having. Now that Je'hyrah is with her everyday since school is out, it seems like the mother is always tired and sleeping.

The mother is easily distracted and doesn't show much attention toward Je'hyrah. She just lets her run around and do what she wants. She doesn't seem to have the maturity to address the special needs that Je'hyrah has. The mother had [REDACTED] and it is believed that it traveled with her into adulthood.

The mother is distant from her family and complains about not having support, but does have it and just doesn't reach out for it.

IV. What is the extent of the maltreatment?
What surrounding circumstances accompany the alleged maltreatment, precipitating events, history?

Summary of Allegations:

On 06/19/18, the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office received a report alleging that the mother does not properly supervise the child and there are concerns that she will wander off and get hurt.

SOURCES/PEOPLE INTERVIEWED, COLLATERALS and OBSERVATIONS:

Shakayla Denson - mother/AP

Jehyrah Daniels - child victim

██████████ - maternal aunt

██████████ - neighbor

██████████ - neighbor

Maltreatment:

The mother and child live together and the mother is a single parent. The child ██████████ is more likely to wander off because she doesn't understand the consequences of her behavior. There are no documented incidents where the child got out of the home and the mother does have a security system installed in the home that will alert her if the doors or windows open. The mother denied that there have been any issues with the child getting away from the home and the neighbors have never seen any supervision issues at the home.

Nature of Maltreatment:

The child resides with the mother, whose home is appropriate and free of any hazards. The home is equipped with a security system. The child appears to be well cared for and free of any marks or bruises.

CPI Kramer spoke to the child victim Je'h'yrah. She is non-verbal ██████████ and she was not able to be interviewed. She was playing in the house during the visit and appeared to be happy, healthy and active. She was bonded with the mother and appeared to listen to basic commands. She would follow the mother and CPI around the home.

CPI Kramer spoke to the mother/AP Shakayla. She is shocked that a report was called in. She has never had to deal with CPS before. She is a great parent but does report that it is difficult to be a single parent of a special needs child. The child was diagnosed ██████████ about a year and a half ago and it has really changed their lives. The child does not really speak and she can throw bad tantrums. She always supervises the child and the time she walked off from the grandmother's house, she was supposed to be watched by the MGM and MGGM. She denied that the child has gotten out of her home but she is very pre-occupied with water and always wants to jump in no matter where they are. She does not sleep all day and she makes sure to set the alarm and usually has the child sleep in her room at night in order to keep an eye on her. She does sometimes get some of her family to help watch the child but it is limited. She is fearful about having other people watch the child because they may not be able to deal with her behavior. She is very involved with the child and wants the very best for her. She is working on getting her into a school called FACE. The child is currently enrolled at James ES. She would also like the child to get some additional ABA therapy or ██████████ services. The child was getting services ██████████ but then the school started speech therapy with her. She denied that there is anything wrong with her that would prevent her from being able to care for the child. She denied that she is too immature to care for the child.

CPI Kramer contacted ██████████. She is the mother's sister and does sometimes help out with watching the child. She has no concerns for the mother taking care of the child and the child appears to be well cared for and happy. The child does like to try to walk off to the park and is very active but the mother is on top of things. She is not aware of there being any supervision issues with the mother watching the child. The mother is very hands on with the child. She trusts the mother enough to leave her own children with her to watch and there have not been any issues with her watching her children.

INVESTIGATIVE SUMMARY (IS)
Child In-Home Investigation
(without Reporter Information)

HCSO Deputy Maury met with [REDACTED], who is the mother's neighbor. She has no concerns for the child getting out of the home and has never seen her unsupervised. She has no concerns about the family and denied that there have been any issues at the home.

HCSO Deputy Maury met with [REDACTED], who is the mother's neighbor. He has no concerns for the child and has never seen any supervision issues at the home. He has no concerns for the family and denied that there are any issues at the home.

Summary of Priors:

The family has no prior history.

Findings:

No Indicators for Inadequate Supervision. The mother does properly supervise the child and the family assists in her care. The child has tried to wander off a few times but someone is always available to get her.

Analysis:

The child resides with the mother, whose home does have a security system. The child is non-verbal [REDACTED] and does have the potential to wander off. The mother denied that she has ever gotten out of the home without someone's knowledge and there are no documented incidents of her getting out of the home. The mother does utilize the security system and her family to help with supervising the child. She did get the child linked with CARD and into a specialized school. There were no concerns from the collaterals obtained.

V. Safety Analysis Summary

There is no impending danger identified as to the child. The child continues to reside with the mother and her needs appear to be met. The child is [REDACTED] mostly non-verbal but appears to be happy and energetic. She does have the potential to be a flight risk and does require supervision. The mother does receive a lot of family support for the child and has gotten the child into a specialized school (FACE) and linked with CARD. She also receives speech therapy during the school year. The family is trying to get the child monitored with Safety Net but can't afford it unless they qualify for the grant program. The mother denied the need for any additional services.

Narrative

CPI Kramer made face to face contact with Shakayla Denson and Je'hyrah Daniels at the family's residence located at 5502 N 43rd St, Apt 105, Tampa, FL. The mother's signature was obtained for the release form and ICWA, which she denied. The mother was provided with the R*R pamphlet. A photo was obtained of the child for the file.

Home Observation:

CPI Kramer observed the home to be a 2 bedroom, 1 bathroom apartment. The home appeared to be clean, well furnished and free of any hazards. The home contained plenty of food and the utilities were on and functional. The mother has her own room and the child has her own room. There is a home alarm system to help ensure the child doesn't get out of the home. There is a small dog that lives in the home, which appeared to be friendly.

Observation and Interview: Je'hyrah Daniels

CPI Kramer contacted Je'hyrah Daniels, who is 4yo and her DOB is 01/30/14. She appeared to be clean, well groomed and free of any marks or bruises. She appeared to be within norms with regard to height, weight and development.

Je'hyrah is non-verbal [REDACTED] and she was not able to be interviewed. She was playing in the house during the visit and appeared to be happy, healthy and active. She was bonded with the mother and appeared to listen to basic commands. She would follow the mother and CPI around the home.

Interview: Shakayla Denson

CPI Kramer contacted Shakayla Denson, who provided her phone number as 813-481-4882. She denied any history of trauma or abuse in her childhood and does remain close to her family. She does receive some support from her little sister and her mother/grandmother with watching the child at times. She does work 3-4 days a week at McDonald's but is looking for another job that she can do from home in order to spend more time with the child. She is not together with the child's father but he does pay child support when he can. He does not really have a relationship with the child though. She denied any history of mental health issues or drug use. She has two arrests [REDACTED]. She loves being a parent and this is her only child. She always makes sure the child's needs are being met and has a close bond with the child. She does get frustrated at times with being a single parent and dealing with the child's behavior but she accepts it and moves on. She does want more assistance for the child to address [REDACTED]. She will raise her voice or tell the child no when she is being bad and that usually works. She is shocked that a report was called in. She has never had to deal with CPS before. She is a great parent but does report that it is difficult to be a single parent of a special needs child. The child was diagnosed [REDACTED] about a year and a half ago and it has really changed their lives. The child does not really speak and she can throw bad tantrums. She always supervises the child and the time she walked off from the grandmother's house, she was supposed to be watched by the MGM and MGGM. She denied that the child has gotten out of her home but she is very pre-occupied with work and always wants to jump in no matter where they are. She does not sleep all day and she makes sure to set the alarm and usually has the child sleep in her room at night in order to keep an eye on her. She does sometimes get some of her family to help watch the child but it is limited. She is fearful about having other people watch the child because they may not be able to deal with her behavior. She is very involved with the child and wants the very best for her. She is working on getting her into a school called FACE. The child is currently enrolled at James ES. She would also like the child to get some additional ABA therapy or [REDACTED] services. The child was getting services [REDACTED] but then the school started speech therapy with her. She denied that there is anything wrong with her that would prevent her from being able to care for the child. She denied that she is too immature to care for the child. She provided the pediatrician as Dr. Stephen Williams and her neurologist is Dr. Fererra.

CPI Kramer contacted the MGM [REDACTED] to get an update on the mother and child, as the mother couldn't be reached on her phone. She reports that things are going well with the family and the mother's sister [REDACTED] does help out with watching the child. She is working on her relationship with the mother because she likes to be more independent and doesn't always like to take advice or disclose everything to her. The child is now linked with CARD, who is working with the child on her communication. They provided her with a book, where the child can point to pictures of things that she wants or wants to say. The child is making a lot of progress. The child was also accepted into FACE school and will start in August. She has no concerns at this time.

DANIELS, JEHYRAH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Safe <input type="checkbox"/> Unsafe

Child Safety Analysis Summary:
 There is no impending danger identified as to the child. The child continues to reside with the mother and her needs appear to be met. The child is mostly non-verbal but appears to be happy and energetic. She does have the potential to be a flight risk and does require supervision. The mother does receive a lot of family support for the child and has gotten the child into a specialized school (FACE) and linked with CARD. She also receives speech therapy during the school year. The family is trying to get the child monitored with Safety Net but can't afford it unless they qualify for the grant program. The mother denied the need for any additional services.
